

STEVE ZALUSKI
Biography

Steve Zaluski was born and raised on Long Island and graduated from Stony Brook University, New York. He studied engineering and psychology, and received his bachelors in Liberal Arts. Later, he studied in education and sculpture at Stony Brook University.

A self-employed contractor and sculptor, Steve has worked on TV commercials, building sets and props, building homes, and renovating bars and restaurants. He also produces multimedia art in music, film, and paintings.

Steve's kinetic sculptures in welded bronze or aluminum have been installed in private collections, office buildings, shopping centers, and gardens around the world; including in Hong Kong, Tokyo, England, France, Germany, Israel, Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas, St. Croix, Grand Cayman, Australia, Canada, and in almost every state in the United States.

Steve currently lives on the south shore of Long Island, enjoying the outdoors in the Great South Bay.

S T E V E Z A L U S K I
Biography

SELECTED COLLECTIONS

Bank of America
Nike
Astra Zeneca
AT&T
Pfizer
Towers-Perrin
Matrix Corp
Royal Caribbean
Comtech
NukSkin Corp
Western National Warranty
Citadel Equities
Jack Welch (GE)
Conair
Barnes & Noble
Meadowbrook Care Center
Boston Children's Hospital
St. Judes Childrens's Hospital
Robert Wood Johnson Memorial Hospital
Mather Memorial Hospital